The perfect match for every style.

What makes delv so special is the tabletop, which appears light and floating, and the A-shaped frame. Positioned at the centre, it provides ample legroom allowing you to sit in comfort both at the head and foot or along the sides. The frame is available in a choice of solid beech or oak, but also in a functional, robust aluminium version. The slanted frame with its trapezium-shaped profile is attached at the top to a support structure that reinforces the tabletop. As a whole, delv presents an overall compact appearance.

The delv range of conference tables offers a wide array of material and colour options: The table surface is available in high-quality veneer, hard-wearing decorative laminate and robust HPL surfaces. As a result, delv offers great flexibility when creating interior designs for sophisticated office and hospitality architecture as well as for higher education establishments and public buildings.

delv fits perfectly into modern coworking environments. As a bench with a length of up to 4.8 m, delv offers plenty of space for temporary work and communication tasks.
