n00i Barstool

Keep it in the family: new models added to the nooi range.

The nooi chair range ensures a consistent look across the entire office architecture: Thanks to its typical seat shell combined with a variety of frames – four leg and skid frames as well as a matching bench – nooi makes a stylish statement in large multipurpose rooms, cafeterias, waiting and circulation areas as well as seminar and training rooms. A new model has been added to the nooi product family: A stackable barstool available in two different heights extends its range of application. A variety of materials such as plastic, plywood and upholstery fabrics together with ten colour combinations for the plastic seat shell create plenty of creative scope for interior designers.
